Growers Reveal Plan As Pickers Desert Orchards

Orange county citrus growers today threatened to import 700 Filipino, Mexican and white workers from outside districts to break the county-wide fruit pickers' strike which developed this morning, if the crews do not return to their jobs by tomorrow. Reports of the number of pickers who refused to work today varied from 750 to 2000. Stuart Strathman, employers' representative in the labor trouble, estimated 750. Lucas Lucio, local Mexican consular representative, said at noon 2000 pickers had gone back to their homes, and would not work. Mr. Strathman admitted that two or three plants are completely tied up by the walkout. But he claimed they would be open in a day or two, with return of local or outside workers.

MAY DELIVER BONUS ON MONDAY

Earlier Date Indicated In Telegram From Washington

Bonus delivery in Santa Ana will occur either Monday or Tuesday, it was predicted today.

Plans of the local postoffice for handling, delivery, and certification of veterans' bonus bonds Tuesday night were possibly thrown off schedule today by a report that the bonds might arrive here over the week-end for delivery Monday night.

The report originated in Los Angeles, where Postmaster H. B. Briggs received a telegram from Third Assistant Postmaster General Ellenberger in Washington. Mr. Ellenberger said bonds were to be mailed from San Francisco to first-class postoffices as soon as they were completed, instead of holding them for dispatch all at once.

That would mean in Santa Ana that delivery of the registered envelopes to veterans would be set for Monday after 5 p. m., instead of Tuesday morning. Postmaster Frank Harwood was to check with the Los Angeles office again this afternoon to learn more definitely what plans will be final.

Tonight Postmaster Harwood will explain latest plans before the local American Legion post meeting. He will stress the order that only the veteran entitled to the bonus can receive them and the veteran must have someone present to identify him to the postman, if he is not personally known to the carrier.

Forest Fires Threaten Town

VICTORIA, B. C., June 11. (AP)—Forest fires in the wake of receding floods threatened the mining town of Anxox on Portland Canal today and sent clouds of smoke aloft from scattered places along the Alaska Coast.

Wireless messages to the provincial police in Victoria said ships were standing by to evacuate the town's population of approximately 200 persons. Telephone and telegraph poles went down in the flames, disrupting communications.

The Hidden Creek Mining company's property was destroyed and other mine buildings and a school house were burned on the outskirts of the town.

9 MILLIONS TO WALNUT MEN Association Reports Sales

LOS ANGELES, June 11. (AP)—The California Walnut Growers Association, in its annual report issued today, said $7,000,000 already has been distributed to its cooperative growers for the 1935 crop, with about $2,000,000 more to come.

The additional $2,000,000 which will come from sales of walnuts now held for future delivery, represents a clear gain over returns of 1934 as well as a higher per pound price, the report disclosed.

"All previous records were broken during the 1935 harvest when California produced 844,880 bags of merchantable walnuts of 100-pound bags. Quality was excellent. With the addition of the Oregon-Washington crop, the total merchantable output for the Coast reached 967,200 bags," said the report.

"In this connection, the report calls attention to present overproduction, and forecasts even heavier surpluses and more acute marketing problems during the next 10 years as existing young acreage comes into full production."

Antwerp Diamond Workers Strike

ANTWERP, Belgium, June 11. (AP)—Fresh strikes of 8000 diamond cutters at Antwerp and 3,000 miners at Liege were called today in sympathy with the continuing walkout of 10,000 dock workers.

DR. SLABAUGH SLAPS BACK AT WEST

Purchasing Agent Says Nothing on Report Of Resignation

Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, Orange county purchasing agent, today accepted the challenge hurled yesterday by Supervisor N. E. West, and hurled back some of his own. "My office," he said, "has never been used for the furtherance of any one's political ambitions, and so long as I remain at its head, it never will be."

Supervisor West yesterday provoked a wordy battle over the purchasing agent's office when he attempted unsuccessfully to present to the board of supervisors what he termed the "oral resignation of Dr. Slabaugh."

He charged the purchasing department with favoritism to certain county business firms, and particularly to the R. A. Tiernan Typewriter company of Santa Ana, and said that Dr. Slabaugh had handed him his resignation last Friday night.

Dictatorship His attempts to force the board to hear the "resignation" were unsuccessful when Supervisors Willard Smith, LeRoy Lyon and W. C. Jerome forced an adjournment before he could speak.

Dr. Slabaugh, in answering Mr. West's accusations, today implied that the supervisor not only had failed to tell the whole story back of the squabble, and by innuendo charged him with attempting a dictatorship over the purchasing department.

He made no mention whatsoever of the West statement that he carried Dr. Slabaugh's "resignation in his pocket."

Mr. West yesterday said that he had ordered Dr. Slabaugh to put the county office supply and servicing business on a competitive bid basis, and that Dr. Slabaugh had refused to do so, continuing to award the contracts for the work to the Tiernan company.

Could Not Comply Dr. Slabaugh today said: "Mr. West ordered me to discontinue the purchase of office equipment (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

Spanish Leader Assassinated

MADRID, June 11. (AP)—Antonio Romano, 62, president of the Malaga provincial parliament and leading Socialist, was assassinated today in the city of Malaga. Street fighting immediately broke out between partisans of the Socialist and Syndicalist factions, although both are members of the leftist coalition which governs Spain today. Meanwhile the government reported it had smashed a rightist movement in seven provinces.

A group of unidentified men opened fire on President Romano as he appeared on the street.

Giving Liquor to Minors Charged

Two El Modena Mexicans will stand trial June 15 on charges of furnishing a minor with liquor, and two others will hear judgment pronounced then on the same charge.

Estanislao Gonzales and Leonora Pastrana pleaded not guilty yesterday before Justice of the Peace Kenneth E. Morrison. Jesus Lemus and Candelario Solario pleaded guilty. Lemus was released on his own recognizance, and bail for the other three was set at $500 each.

Did You See?

JIMMY UTT and RAY LAMBERT walking halfway around a block so they could enter a downtown cafe through the "Republican" door?

L. W. BLODGET on the qui vive at Tuesday's meeting of the board of supervisors?

JAMES SLEEPER leading a shirt-sleeve discussion of the political picture?

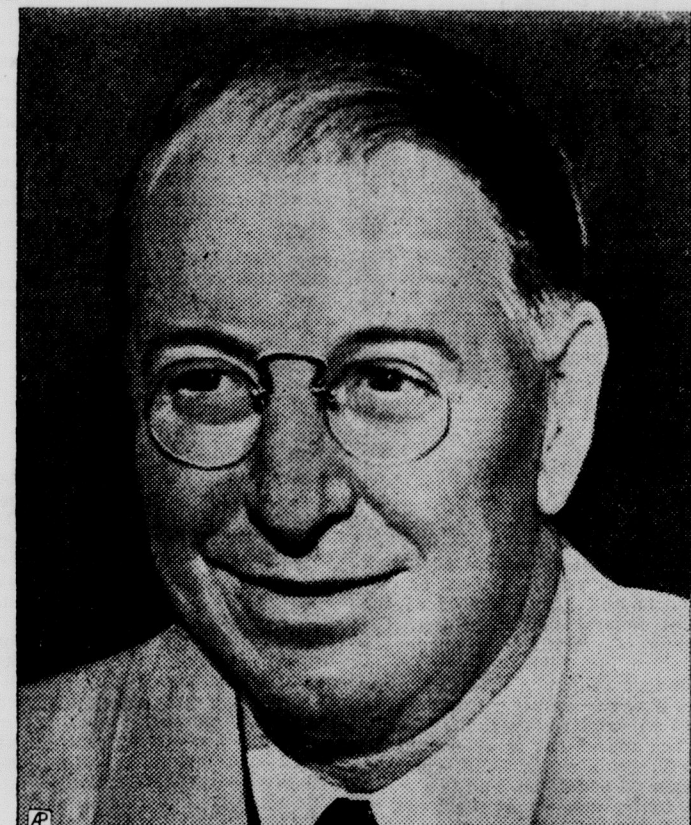

DELEGATION from the Orange Lions club getting crossed up on dates and appearing at the Kiwanis instead of the Lions club meeting?

These Two Appear to Have G. O. P. Nomination Cinched

ALF M. LANDON

Governor of Kansas, who seems today to be the almost unanimous choice of delegates to the Republican convention for the presidential nomination

FRANK KNOX

Chicago newspaper publisher, who looks like he has the edge on all other candidates to be Governor Landon's running mate on the Republican ticket.

WAY POINTED BY HOOVER

Ex-President Assails New Deal; Talk Wins Him Great Ovation

CLEVELAND, June 11. (AP)—Herbert Hoover sped toward New York today as the friends and admirers who cheered him last night voiced superlative praise of his speech calling on the Republican party "to enter into a holy crusade for liberty."

Hoover won a half hour's ovation at the Republican national convention when he assailed the New Deal as a "muddle of a spoils system" and "reckless adventure." Shouts and cheers, including some cries of "We want Hoover," rang through the hall after delegates had listened to his assertion that without the intervention of the supreme court "we would have been a regimented people."

"Greed for Power" Under a blaze of lights, and with his address often punctuated by applause and cheering, Hoover arrayed what he said was "evidence that the New Deal is a definite attempt to replace the American system of freedom with some sort of European planned existence."

Hoover said the New Deal appeared to some people as "sheer opportunism, that it is a muddle of a spoils system, of emotional economics, of reckless adventure, of unctuous claims to a monopoly of human sympathy, of greed for power, of a desire for popular acclamation." (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

Borah Hints He May Bolt Party

CLEVELAND, June 11. (AP)—A study by the Republican platform committee of possible changes in his anti-monopoly plank drew from Senator Borah of Idaho today a hint that he might bolt the party.

Asked if he would appear before the convention if the changes should be adopted, Borah replied: "I don't know about that. But I know what I would do later."

"Do you mean you would bolt?" a reporter asked.

Hoover in Ranks Of Hat-Losers

CLEVELAND, June 11. (AP)—Former President Hoover today joined the ranks of the many at the Republican national convention who have lost their hats.

In the bustle of leaving he mislaid his gray felt. Several friends proffered theirs as he strode toward the train. Finally, he accepted a straw from Lawrence Richey, his former secretary.

New York Platinum Blonde Stampedes Delegates With Noisy Plea to Name Hoover

CLEVELAND, June 11. (AP)—Mrs. Frances J. Clair, a platinum blonde from New York City, embarked today on a one-woman campaign to re-elect Herbert Hoover president of the United States.

Bearing three orchids instead of a delegate's badge, the pretty New Yorker jumped from her gallery seat and ran to the floor when the former President entered the Republican national convention last night.

"Let me by," she cried as she swept down the crowded aisle, sidestepping burly ushers and reaching the foot of the speaker's platform.

"We want Hoover!" she shouted, looking up at the smiling Californian. She seized an American flag from the stand, mounted a chair

CONVENTION SIDELIGHTS

CLEVELAND, June 11. (AP)—This town's waitresses are thinking of suggesting a plank for the Republican platform, reading:

"We hereby resolve to be patient with waitresses and not expect fillet mignon to be served up, well done, in a half minute."

"You'd think there were 100,000 instead of 10,000," sighed one fleet-footed lass, as she took a second off from her chores. Everybody's in a hurry and nobody knows what they want."

But she cast a vote for the Republicans on two issues; they are "pretty sober" and there are "no fresh guys among them."

Cleveland's merchants are wearing a broad smile. Official estimates say the Republican convention will bring between $800,000 and $1,000,000 into the city. Delegates and visitors are spending between $100,000 and $165,000 a day.

Mrs. Bertha Baur, national committeewoman from Chicago, still is the butterfly lady. She clings to her custom of having butterflies embroidered on her handkerchiefs, dresses, pillowcases—everything she uses.

Once before, long years ago, Col. Frank Knox and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, were rivals. They sold newspapers on opposite corners when they were lads in Grand Rapids, Mich., according to Dr. Harley Parker of Chicago.

One of Herbert Hoover's shoe-strings was untied during his whole address last night.

Lobby sitters blinked when they saw a person in trousers

PLATFORM IS SUBMITTED

All But One of Landon Planks Accepted by Sub-Committee

By NATHAN ROBERTSON

CLEVELAND, June 11. (AP)—The Republican platform finally emerged at noon today from the resolutions sub-committee of the national convention, after a number of changes had been made at the request of Gov. Alf M. Landon, of Kansas, prospective nominee.

Members of the sub-committee said Landon had been given almost everything he asked in changes of the original compromise platform, except a plank for a constitutional amendment to permit minimum wage legislation by states.

Allen Satisfied The platform was submitted to the resolutions committee this afternoon.

Some committee members said, however, that former Senator Henry Allen, of Kansas, one of Landon's chief platform spokesmen, was satisfied with the form in which the document emerged from the sub-committee.

The platform called for a "sound currency to be preserved" at all hazards, and made no mention of gold, and said that wage and hour standards could be set by the states without a constitutional amendment.

Chief Points The words "sound currency to be preserved at all hazards" were a literal repetition of those in the currency plank written for the 1932 Democratic platform by Senator Carter Glass of Virginia.

Some of the other chief points of the platform are:

Relief—Return to local agencies (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

CALIFORNIANS' VOTE SPLIT But 'Support' Given Landon

By LOYD B. DILBECK

CLEVELAND, June 11. (AP)—California's delegation authorized Chairman Chester Rowell in caucus today to tell the Republican convention, if he is asked, that the delegation will support Governor Landon in presidential balloting.

No delegation poll was taken at the caucus, however, and the exact number of Californians to support Landon was left undetermined.

Only four of about 16 speakers said definitely they would not vote at the convention for Landon. Rowell and other leaders told the delegates Governor Landon might be nominated by acclamation.

CHIPS CASHED IN BY ALL OTHERS

Knox Predicted to Be Running-Mate; Vote Begins Tonight

By EDWARD J. DUFFY

CONVENTION HALL, CLEVELAND, June 11. (AP)—With the nomination of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas for the presidency conceded on all sides, the Republican convention struggled into late hours today to compose its platform differences, name a ticket and get back home.

Both Col. Frank Knox of Illinois and Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan were mentioned as most likely for the vice presidential nomination; but Vandenberg has said repeatedly he would not accept. He urged Knox. Leaders freely predicted Knox would be named Landon's running mate.

They All Withdraw One after another the Landon competitors withdrew their names while the great mass of yet footloose delegates joined up.

Colonel Knox released his delegates shortly after Senators Vandenberg of Michigan, Borah of Idaho and Dickinson of Iowa had done the same.

The tenor of their assertions was the same, in the words of Knox:

"The crisis in national affairs demands complete harmony."

Wires Congratulations Senator Vandenberg today telegraphed Governor Landon:

"In advance of your nomination I send you my warmest congratulations and my assurances of complete support in the battle of the century. May I add my sincere personal regards."

John Hamilton, the energetic Landon manager, smilingly declined to talk about the vice presidential nomination.

Borah Is Silent Senator Borah, however, who has been a big figure in all the proceedings, still would not say whether he would campaign for the ticket.

He seemed satisfied with the platform draft, as it stood before the debate—but said cryptically "the candidate is the platform."

The morning session was called to order at 11:39 a. m., but, with the platform committee still unready to report, a recess quickly was in order until 2:30 p. m.

Recessed Until Platform troubles still delaying matters, the convention recessed shortly after 3 p. m. until 7 o'clock. Then, unless a protracted argument makes it impossible, the presidential ticket is expected to be named soon after the platform is approved.

The policy sub-committee, worn from its long hours, finally left out any direct mention of the gold standard and made no recommendation for a constitutional amendment for state minimum wage legislation. Governor Landon's views had been obtained to the last minute, but he was overridden on the amendment suggestion.

Borah won out for a declaration against joining the League of Nations or the World Court, and a pledge to attack the monopoly problem.

104 AT BRAWLEY BRAWLEY, June 11. (AP)—Noon temperature here was 104 degrees, one degree higher than yesterday's noon, indicating yesterday's high of 110 would be exceeded.

Rowell sought permission, if asked at the convention for California's vote, to say the delegation would "support" Landon. The delegation granted this permission by a voice vote.

The delegation is not bound by the unit rule, however, and the permission action left no bar to a split vote by California in case of a poll of the delegation at the convention.

Joseph Scott, Los Angeles lawyer, who nominated Mr. Hoover at Kansas City in 1928, counseled the delegates to get on the Landon bandwagon, regardless of their previous preferences, in the interest of party harmony.

SNAG HIT BY TAX SLASH PLANS

Schools Demand Use of Money Placed In General Fund

The board of supervisors' transfer of $47,276.95, from redeemed school taxes to the county general fund, struck a snag today as the Santa Ana board of education demanded the money be returned to school districts.

The school board believes the money should be apportioned back to school districts, but the fund has already been transferred to the county general fund. The transfer, according to Supervisor W. C. Jerome, will mean a reduction of 2 1/2 cents in the county tax rate.

Funds had been accumulating for two years in the state redemption fund, being placed there as redemptions of delinquent school taxes. Necessity for the fund was obviated by the substitution of the sales tax for ordinary school taxes.

County Auditor W. T. Lambert, who would have to make the transfer, said today he was not certain what he could do, and would seek legal advice before making a move.

"We may wait for a test case to figure it out," Mr. Lambert said, "or we may make a ruling from the district attorney's office or the attorney general. I won't know for a few days."

The school board cites a similar case and the opinion of Attorney General U. S. Webb as basis for its contention the transfer to districts would be legal.

MORE ABOUT STRIKE

lence, while Mr. Lucio and W. Maxwell Burke, attorney for the leader of the pickers' union, again denied reports of Communist agitation behind the strike picture.

Mr. Burke said: "I know practically every leader in the strike movement and they are not Communists. Communist leadership is not wanted."

Mr. Lucio said that Lillian Monroe, alleged Communist and strike leader, had arrived in Santa Ana with an offer to lead the movement, and had been sent back to Los Angeles.

Ready for Violence

The sheriff's office today spotted radio cars with details of deputies prepared for trouble in the strike area. The officers are armed with hickory sledgehammers, handles, tear gas guns and gas bombs, and attempts at disorderly picketing or intimidation of workers will be met with orders to move on, Sheriff Jackson said.

Most pickers were operating skeleton crews today, while some functioned with full forces in the field, Mr. Strathman reported. He said that one house in Olive and one in Fullerton were indie. In Fullerton last night two white men were reported to have intimidated workers and ordered them to leave their jobs today.

A report on file at the sheriff's office said the picking crew of the Orangehorpe Citrus association reported for work this morning and was turned back by strikers at 6 a. m.

Officers of the highway patrol, police departments in other county cities, and American Legion members today were standing by for trouble. None was expected before tonight.

COURT ADMITS 39 CITIZENS

LOCAL NURSES TO BE HOSTESSES

Orange county nurses will be co-hostesses with those of Los Angeles when more than 10,000 nurses from all parts of the United States begin converging at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles for their national biennial convention, June 21 to 27.

Mrs. Rose Jackson, chairman of the local nursing bureau committee, and Mrs. Anna Stolpe Lockhart, director of the States Nurses association nursing bureau, district No. 18, will be hostesses at the national registry booth Monday afternoon at the Shrine auditorium.

Personnel of an advisory committee is to be announced shortly.

to be handled through federal grants to states.

Security—Repeat the unemployment and old age insurance sections of the present law, which it called "unworkable," but provide for old age security and graduated contributions to the states to help maintain unemployment insurance plans.

Plank on Labor

Labor—"Protect the rights of labor to bargain collectively and encourage state adoption of laws and compacts to abolish child labor, sweatshops and protect women and children with respect to maximum hours, minimum wages and working conditions. "We believe this can be done under the constitution as it stands, it said.

Agriculture—Promote an economy of plenty instead of scarcity; a national land use program, including acquisition of submarginal lands for public use; protection of land resources by a balance between soil building and soil depleting crops with reasonable benefits to cooperating farmers on "family farms."

Other Points

Monopoly—"Indefensible and intolerable;" favored vigorous enforcement of federal and civil anti-monopoly laws with additional legislation to make monopolies impossible.

Foreign relations — Pledged against entangling alliances with foreign nations; against entrance into the League of Nations and the World Court.

The platform declared for protection of the farmer "against the importation of all livestock, dairy and agricultural products, substitutes therefrom, which will depress American farm prices."

It called, too, for an "effective quarantine against imported livestock, for ample farm credit at low rates, a decentralized non-partisan control of the farm credit administration."

On Farm Subsidies — On subsidies to agriculture, it called for: "In the case of surplus agricultural products on which the tariff is ineffective, the payment of reasonable benefits upon the domestically consumed portion of such crops to compensate for lack of tariff protection and to attain a fair exchange value with the products which farmers buy."

It called, too, for "encouragement and further development of co-operative marketing," government assistance in disposing of surpluses in foreign trade with "bargaining for foreign markets selectively by countries both as to export and imports," adding: "We strenuously oppose so-called reciprocal treaties which trade off the American farmer."

Tariff Question

It opposed the use of federal funds for new irrigation for drainage projects competing with cultivated farm lands, "while a surplus of farm products exists," and called for "every reasonable assistance" to producers in areas suffering from temporary disasters.

On the tariff, the platform draft declared for keeping on the free list all products not grown or produced in the United States in commercial quantities. As for imports that compete with American products, the draft said "sufficient protection should be maintained at all times to defend the American farmer and the American wage earner from the destructive competition of foreign governments and the imports from low wage and depressed currency countries."

"We will repeal the present reciprocal trade agreements law. It is a futile and dangerous policy. Its effect on agriculture and industry has been wholly evil. The continuation of the policy would work to the detriment of the wage earner and farmer."

On Flexible Tariff

"We will restore the principle of the flexible tariff in order to meet changing economic conditions here and abroad, and broaden by careful definition the powers of the tariff commission in order to extend this policy along non-partisan lines."

"We will adjust tariffs with a view to promoting international trade, the stabilization of currencies and the attainment of a proper balance between agriculture and industry."

"We condemn the secret negotiations of reciprocal trade treaties without public hearings or legislative approval."

On monopoly it said: "A private monopoly is indefensible, government-owned monopolies and, if continued, will utterly destroy constitutional government and the liberty of the citizen."

Want Enforcement

"We favor the vigorous enforcement of the criminal laws, as well as the civil laws against monopolies and trusts and their officials, and we demand the enactment of such additional legislation as is necessary to make it impossible for private monopoly to exist in the United States."

"We will employ the full powers of the government to the end that monopoly shall be eliminated and that free enterprise shall be fully restored and maintained."

The draft said the party realized the existence of a field within which government regulation of business is "desirable and salutary" and said the authority to regulate "should be vested in an independent tribunal acting under clear and specific laws establishing definite standards," with their decisions subject to review by the courts.

Push Merit System

"We favor federal regulation, within the constitution, of the marketing of securities to protect investors," the draft said.

Another plank pledged the party to support the merit system in the appointment of federal employees, which it said had been "virtually destroyed" by the present administration.

The draft charged the New Deal with "shameful waste and general financial responsibility," adding: "It has piled deficit upon deficit. It threatens national bankruptcy and the destruction through inflation of insurance policies and savings bank deposits."

"We pledge ourselves to: "Stop the folly of uncontrolled spending."

"Balancing the budget—not by increasing taxes but by cutting expenditures, drastically and immediately."

Revise Tax System

"Revise the federal tax system and coordinate it with state and local tax systems."

"Use the taxing power for raising revenues and not for punitive or political purposes."

The money plank advocated "a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards" and declared "we oppose further devaluation of the dollar."

It said "the first requisite to a sound and stable currency is a balanced budget" and demanded return to congress of authority to regulate the value of the currency. It pledged cooperation with other countries toward stabilization of currencies.

Foreign Affairs

The foreign affairs plank, which sub-committees said had the approval of Senator Borah, pledged promotion of peace by "all honorable means, not leading to foreign alliances or political commitments." America, it said, shall not become a member of the League of Nations or the World Court. It pledged the party to promote international arbitration through the establishment of free, independent tribunals.

Army, navy and air forces "adequate for national defense" were advocated by cooperation with other nations in the limitation of armaments was promised. The party was pledged to preserve, protect and defend freedom of religion, speech, the press and radio and the right of assembly and petition. This plank promised "the abiding security" of a government of laws against the autocratic perils of a government of men."

Other Declarations

The sub-committee declared for: Construction of headwater storage basins to prevent floods; Equal opportunity for "our colored citizens;" Continuation of the Republican policy of "adequate compensation" and care for veterans, their widows and orphans.

An effort to collect the war debt of 12 billion dollars, concerning which, it asserted, the present administration has made no effort even to reopen negotiations.

The Relief Plank

The relief plank proposed that of every nature, regardless of price, quality or service, from the R. A. Tiernan Typewriter company of Santa Ana."

He said he did not comply with the order when he found it was impossible to comply with it and still get the proper service.

Dr. Slabaugh's complete statement follows:

Lauds Firm

"Regarding the controversy with Mr. N. E. West, supervisor, it appears to be largely a charge by him of insubordination on my part."

"On Aug. 27 of last year, for reasons best known to himself, Mr. West ordered me to discontinue the purchase of office equipment of every nature, regardless of price, quality or service, from the R. A. Tiernan Typewriter company of Santa Ana—one of the largest and most highly respected business organizations of its kind in Southern California."

"Inasmuch as there are certain types of office equipment which are carried in Orange county only by the Tiernan company, I soon found that it was impossible to comply with such an order."

Records Open

"After several unsuccessful attempts to convince Mr. West of his unfairness, I had only the choice of ignoring the order, or else failing to function as a purchasing agent in the way the department heads of Orange county had a right to demand of me."

"Our records are open to anyone at any time as to the prices paid in transaction. My department has been examined each year by Orange county grand juries, and without exception we have been commended for good business methods and efficiency."

"I have done my duty to the taxpayers of this county to the best of my ability. My office has never been used for the furtherance of anyone's political ambitions and so long as I remain at its head, it never will be."

claim and an aspiration to make the front pages of the newspapers."

"European Ideas" — "To other people," he continued, "it appears to be a cold-blooded attempt by starry-eyed boys to infect the American people by a mixture of European ideas, flavored with our native predilection to get something for nothing."

Moreover, he said, "when we examine the speeches of Tugwell, Wallace, Ickes and others, we see little indications of repentance."

He said the New Deal had hit upon the "striking solution" that the way out is to produce less and to increase prices so the people can buy less."

'We're Taken for Ride'

"At least," he jibed, "it has enabled the New Deal to take a few hundred thousand earnest party workers to the promised land. It takes the rest of us for a ride into the wilderness of unemployment."

"What do the New Dealers propose to do with these instable currencies, unbalanced budgets, debts and taxes?" he asked.

While he concentrated most of his efforts in an attack upon the national administration, he pointed a way in which he thought the Republican party might lead the nation.

Tell Party's Task

"The immediate task," he said, "is to set the country on the road of genuine recovery from the paths of instability. We have enough invention and enough accumulated needs to start the physical rebuilding of America."

"The day the Republican party can assure right principles we can turn this nation from the demoralization of relief to the contentment of constructive jobs."

"There are some principles," he said, "that cannot be compromised. Either we shall have a society based upon ordered liberty and the initiative of the individual, or we shall have a planned society that means dictation no matter what you call it or who does it."

The problem he returned to federal agencies, with federal grants to the states, all employees to be engaged for "merit and fitness" by "all honorable means, not leading to foreign alliances or political commitments."

Concerning security, it said this was possible when the productive capacity is sufficient to furnish a decent standard of living. It said the New Deal policies endangered security.

The platform proposed for old-age security a "pay as you go policy" by which each generation would take care of its own aged; protection of all of those over 65 with supplementary payments; each state to receive a graduated contribution from the federal government, in proportion to that which it made.

Unemployment Insurance — It proposed "honest measures" for unemployment insurance with repeal of the unemployment and old age insurance sections of the present social security law, which it said were unworkable.

The Republican policy makers said the welfare of labor rested on increased production. They offered a pledge to:

"Protect the right of labor to bargain collectively through representatives of its own choosing without interference from any source."

The platform promised to "prevent governmental job holders from exercising autocratic powers over labor."

Friends to Honor Departed Woman

Friends and relatives of the late Mrs. Lavinia Mayfield, who died May 31 in Jamestown, R. I., will assemble at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in Fairhaven cemetery, to witness graveside rites.

The Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will conduct committal rites for the ashes of Mrs. Mayfield, sent here from Jamestown.

The service, at first announced as private, will be open to all friends of Mrs. Mayfield, her two nieces, Mrs. Lula Johnson and Mrs. Bess Hill, announced today.

HEALTH UNIT IN NEW OFFICES

To permit increased clinical service, the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association has moved to new headquarters on the ground floor of the Ramona building.

Liquor Records Are Subpoenaed

LOS ANGELES, June 11. (AP)—The assembly finance auditing committee, which tomorrow will open an investigation of alleged graft and corruption within the state board of equalization, today placed under subpoena all records since last July of the board dealing with the granting and revocation of liquor licenses.

The action was taken at a session of the committee lasting into the morning hours. Assemblyman Ralph W. Evans said it would forestall any attempt that might be made to remove the records.

ing, 112 West Fifth street, it was announced today.

Clinic attendance in May reached 74, the highest registration since inauguration of the Friday afternoon chest clinics seven years ago. Diagnoses showed that 20 of the patients were non-tubercular.

Plan Opposition To Single Tax

Plans for a coordinated county-wide opposition to the single tax proposal, which will come before the voters in November if attempts to get the measure on the ballot are successful, were outlined at a meeting of the county single tax committee last night, held at the farm bureau hall.

General Chairman J. A. Smiley of West Orange told the meeting that 12 county-wide organizations have affiliated with the committee, and that he anticipated many more will join the movement before the middle of July. The committee seeks to maintain the sales and income tax as sources of revenue for state government.

Music of a type usually presented only by a symphony orchestra was featured at last night's concert in Birch park by the Orange County Federal Music Project band, under direction of Eddie Klein.

Mendelssohn's "Military Overture," seldom played except by a regulation military band, furnished a dramatic opening for the program. An arrangement of Grieg's "Peer Gynt" suite was presented, with the reed section handling difficult passages usually played on stringed instruments.

"Scenes Pittoresques," by Massenet, a four-section symphonic arrangement emphasizing stringed movements, was ably handled. Wayne Glade and James Milligan played "Short and Sweet" as a cornet duet. Kermit Vest played "Premier Polka," an euphonium solo.

Says Communism Claim Unfounded

The charge of Communism has been raised against strikers in an effort to discredit them and block their attempt to secure better wages for themselves, J. F. Burke, former local publisher, told an audience at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night.

Along this line, Mr. Burke told of growing dissatisfaction among Christian business men with the "selfishness of the present business structure," and the efforts being made to promote conditions more in accord with Christian ethics.

Mr. Burke, who attended the recent general conference of the Methodist church, described the position of the conference on matters of war and peace, social justice, unemployment and social security. Confidence as to the future, both for the church and the nation, was the keynote of the talk.

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

DON'T know why Johnny Gregory, Fullerton police sergeant, should be all excited about the Izaak Walton breakfast next Sunday, but he is.

John, ardent Waltooner and head of the Fullerton organization, claims that the breakfast is going to be the biggest thing the Fullerton chapter has staged since their big outdoor show a couple of months ago. It's just to be a sort of get-together, with the main purpose to interest folks in the Izaak Walton movement.

John didn't say what they'll have for breakfast. I'd suggest trout, trimmed with bacon, or maybe roast quail on toast—but, whatever they offer customers, it'll be good. I've eaten some of that Walton cooking!

After breakfast there'll be a show, free of charge to the public, when Capt. A. H. Hardy, who's been known for years as the outstanding exhibition rifle and pistol shot in the country, will show folks how to shoot guns. His daughter, Kay, will also do some exhibition shooting, and also will show youngsters how to handle guns.

In case you're interested, breakfast is from 7 to 10 a. m. Sunday. It'll be worth attending!

'S funny. Just as I walked in to call on John yesterday, he was preparing to mail me a letter regarding that breakfast. Sort of invitation to attend. And, as I passed through Anaheim, I stopped in to see Bill "Wee Willie" Queale, junior chamber of commerce booster. Bill had just finished mailing a letter with my address on it.

Like John, Bill's also all excited. About the "Fullerton water polo team."

It seems that the team is capable of wallowing any other lake aggregation in the country, and the Fullerton junior C. of C. is going to send 'em back to Chicago early next month to take some of the conceit out of other water poloists.

Of course, Bill pointed out, it'll take money to send those players to Chicago. So, to raise necessary funds, the junior group is sponsoring a dance at Valencia ballroom June 25th. Everybody in north Orange county's going to attend, so you'd better get your tickets early!

Folks are certainly interested in the proposed—or is it threatened?—orange pickers' strike, which was scheduled to start this morning. Lots of 'em asked if anything had happened yet. Of course, I didn't know anything about it.

But policemen at Anaheim and Fullerton are preparing for anything that might happen. At Anaheim the guardians of the law have harvested a full quota of billboard cues and have sawed off the small ends. The result is one of the finest head-busters you ever saw.

Desk Sergeant Jim Pifer was practicing with one yesterday, and you should have seen Cap. Andrade duck when the weapon whizzed by his head!

At Fullerton they have some very efficient appearing handcuffs. Made of the hardest of wood, with a nice strap to tie around your wrist.

Personally, I'm not going to start any strike trouble in Orange county in the next few days!

I hate to take any pokes at Santa Ana and the park situation, but after what I saw in Anaheim yesterday, there's no help for it. City Clerk Charlie Griffith takes reservations for picnics in the Anaheim city park. From hundreds of reservations during the next few days, here's a partial list of organizations from Santa Ana and vicinity planning to use that park:

Thirty-six Santa Ana teachers, for an informal picnic.

Methodist church Sunday school, 20 members.

Santa Ana Quilting club, 40 members.

One hundred pupils of Spurgeon school sixth grade, Santa Ana.

Ladies Aid, First Presbyterian church, 150 members.

Order of Scottish Clans, 60 members.

Tch, tch! Wouldn't those crowds look better in a park at the county seat? It's a shame!

Just a word of congratulation to Father Arthur J. Hutchinson, resident priest at San Juan Capistrano mission, who was honored on his 25th year as a priest there yesterday.

They'll be honoring him soon for more than that—for the wonderful work he's doing in continuing the restoration program at the old mission.

Personally, I hope he's at the mission for the next 25 years. He's always glad to give out stories!

Lights Tournament to Be Held Aug. 15; Legion To Open Season

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Tentative plans which will offer one of the most ambitious summer programs ever attempted by bay area residents have been announced by Harry Welch, chamber of commerce secretary.

Featured by several championship yacht races, a huge Fourth of July celebration, a "Pirate Days" fiesta, the annual Tournament of Lights, annual Southern kayak meet and many other events, the summer program is expected to draw thousands of visitors to the $2,000,000 county harbor over week-ends, it was announced.

Legion Fete Told
Officially opening the season will be the huge American Legion pilgrimage, with 7000 Legionnaires and their families expected to attend this week-end. Final plans have been completed for this event, which will include parades, a bathing girl contest and dozens of other events, port leaders said today.

Also on Saturday Pacific Coast six-meter class races will be held at Newport-Balboa, yachting officials announced. The six-meter competition will be carried over to Sunday, and will be continued on June 20. Also slated for Sunday is a practice meet for members of the Fullerton Kayak club, Southern California champions.

Fourth Plans Told
During the Fourth of July celebration, the Newport Harbor Yacht club's invitational series of yacht races will be held July 4 and 5, it has been announced. The next huge yachting event slated for the harbor district will be the Pacific open Blue Star championship series July 31.

The Blue Star championships will be continued for the International Star class July 1 and 2, with the annual Southern California Yachting association regatta for large and small craft to start Aug. 3 and continue through through Aug. 8.

Light Tournery Date Set
Aug. 15 has tentatively been selected as the Annual Tournament of Lights date, officials said today. This event, which each year draws a crowd estimated at 100,000, will surpass all past efforts this year, according to plans of committee members.

The Southern California Junior Swim meet and the annual Southern California kayak meet will be held Aug. 22 and 23, with the 5-foot class race to Catalina and return to end the yachting series on Aug. 29. Sept. 5 has been set for the commodore's cruise to Catalina Island, with a huge Labor Day program to wind up the season Sept. 7.

Improvements Slated at G. G.

GARDEN GROVE.—That several improvements sponsored by the Garden Grove Chamber of Commerce are a step nearer completion was revealed in reports given at a Chamber meeting Tuesday evening.

H. E. Yockey, chairman of the road committee, reported that in a recent interview with P. A. Stanton, state highway commissioner, he was told that the state has made an appropriation for a bridge over the Santa Ana river on Garden Grove boulevard as well as extending the boulevard through to the 101 highway and it was hoped the work will be started this year or shortly after the new year.

That the government has accepted, as a WPA project, improvement of the Garden Grove parkside and has requested detailed plans and specifications which had been prepared and forwarded to Washington, was the report of President L. W. Schauer.

CEREMONY AT CAPISTRANO HONORS MISSION PRIEST

The occasion marked the 25th year since the local priest was ordained in St. Patrick's church in New York City. For many years he had charge of a visitation parish in Brooklyn, and then went overseas with U. S. forces in the World war. On his return he applied for leave of absence from his diocese and came to California, where he has been for the past 19 years.

About two years ago Father Hutchinson came to San Juan Capistrano, where he has done notable work since in restoration work.

Following the ceremony yesterday 50 children of the mission school, under direction of Sisters of St. Francis, presented a program. The priest received gifts from friends in many parts of the world in celebration of the anniversary.

A. C. McShane, who was appointed caretaker in April, was relieved of his duties and J. C. Huscroft was hired to fill the position. City Engineer W. K. Hilliard was ordered to prepare a WPA project for submission to the state for installation of sewer lines on West Almond avenue between Batavia and Bush streets, where a number of new homes are being constructed. The speaker told graduating seniors that the average man is about as successful as he deserves to be, and that success will come to anyone who is willing to work for it. Five of the elements necessary for success are energy, enthusiasm, efficiency, endurance, and ethics, he said.

Ransler J. Baker, president of the board of trustees, awarded diplomas after the class had been presented by Principal J. W. Means. The program also included organ selections by Donn Hart, Norman Rasher, and Norma Daly, and songs by members of the girls' glee club, directed by Miss Madge Stephens.

LAGUNA STREET WORK SLATED

LAGUNA BEACH.—Included among matters to come before the city council June 17, the next regular meeting, is acceptance of deeds from various property owners granting necessary rights-of-way on Ramona street necessary for the council to proceed with street improvement.

About two years ago several owners of property located on the street, extending from Laguna avenue to Legion street, filed a communication with the council protesting condition of the thoroughfare. Inquiries at the time brought out that a portion of the street, though used as a thoroughfare, was private property and had not been deeded to the city for street purposes, hence no plan for improving the street could be entertained.

Ineligibility of two players, both under the age-limit of 17, threatened today to disrupt the entire softball program in the Santa Ana Girls' league.

For employing Misses Norma Lundak, leftfielder, and "Pete" Harper, second-baseman, in a 7-7 deadlock with the Tiernan Typists at the Municipal bowl last night, the Green Cat cafe's softball sisters were forced to forfeit the game by Mrs. R. R. Russell, police matron and league commissioner.

With only nine available players including the two ineligible—Jim Detrixhe, sponsor of the Green Cat cafe team, remarked, "I'd rather play and forfeit the game than disappoint this crowd of 500 fans who have waited to see the evening's feature."

Mr. Detrixhe said today he would withdraw from the league rather than attempt to develop a new team. "It's too late in the season for that," he said.

Miss Harper of the ineligibleists blasted a home run with Shortstop Pat Collins aboard in the fifth to enable the cafe girls to tie Tiernan's leaders, whom Mary Perkins, petite pitcher, limited to eight hits. Ruth Lehnhardt, Tiernan catcher, shared honors with Miss Harper with three hits apiece.

Fred (Andy) Anderson's Bell Telephone company line, amid a bevy of errors, was overwhelmed by Coach Mallett's Smith & Corona girls, 13 to 5, in the curtain-raiser's feature.

County Night Ball league assignments also send Anaheim to San Juan Capistrano and Huntington Beach to Placentia.

Hollywood Legion May Sponsor Coast Loop Nine

HOLLYWOOD, June 11. (AP)—Harry Myers, promotional director for the American Legion county council, disclosed today the Legion is considering sponsoring a Coast league baseball club in Hollywood.

On behalf of the county council, Myers planned to file articles of incorporation today for the professional Sports Enterprises, Inc.

"While this corporation is being formed primarily for the purpose of promoting professional football in Los Angeles, the possibility of establishing a Coast league club in Hollywood will be fully investigated," Myers said.

"Right now, professional football looks like our best bet. The county council has been granted a probationary franchise in the national professional football league which takes effect this fall.

"However, the plan to set up a ball club in Hollywood sounds like a good idea and we plan to give it our fullest consideration."

With the transformation of the Hollywood Sheiks into the San Diego Padres this season, an opening for a second Coast league outfit in Metropolitan Los Angeles became evident.

Baseball circles recently reported the Mission Reds of San Francisco, struggling to compete with the San Francisco Seals and the Oakland Oaks of the Bay district, would like to shift here.

CITY SOFTBALL LEAD AT STAKE

CUBS, PIRATES RATED OVER N. Y. GIANTS

They're Chasing Each Other Up Ladder to Overtake Cardinals

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Any way you look at it, the bucking Buccaneers from Pittsburgh and the champion Cubs of Chicago seem to be the boys to supply whatever headaches come to Mr. Frankie Frisch and his St. Louis Cardinals in the current National league race.

They're chasing each other right up the ladder, resting in second and third place, respectively, today, now that what is generally regarded as the New York Giants' long-predicted blow-up has come to pass.

Cleveland Drubs Solons
The Pirates drubbed the Dodgers 6-3 yesterday for a clean sweep in their four-game series, and the Cubs took their third in a row from the Phillies, 4-3, in a major league program that found the weatherman getting most of the credit for raining out half of the scheduled line in each loop.

Their victories, along with the surprise walkout of Van Lingle Mungo, the Dodgers' number one speedball pitcher, from the Brooklyn temporary camp in Pittsburgh, featured the shortened program, in which Cleveland's 10-2 triumph over the Senators, and the Boston Red Sox' 4-3 win over Detroit, furnished the only other competition.

Blascholder Wins
Over in the American league, while the leading Yankees were idle, the Red Sox pulled up to 2½ games back of the pace setters with their win over the Tigers, while Cleveland again became a threat for third place in taking the Senators.

Blascholder's victory over Washington gave that veteran another of the laughs he is piling up this season, for with five wins and two losses, he has become the number two hurler on the Cleveland staff, after being tossed into the discard both by the cellar-dwelling St. Louis Browns and the seventh-place Athletics.

"DODGERS DONE HIM WRONG"—VAN MUNGO
NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Van Lingle Mungo, star Brooklyn pitcher who went on strike yesterday and quit the Dodgers sold in Pittsburgh, said today he would not do a Dodger uniform again "unless they treat me right."

"I haven't been getting the right kind of support from the team or the proper treatment from the club, and the truth of the matter is I want to be traded," said the fire-ball right-handed hurler.

When Mungo failed to report to the Dodgers' dressing room at Forbes field, Pittsburgh, yesterday, John Gorman, business manager of the club, indicated Mungo would be fined or suspended, or both.

Judge Stephen E. McKeever, president of the Dodgers, said that he would not let Mungo go under any circumstances, but that he was ready to deal with him as he saw fit.

The action is quick and rather convincing. Max's stomach is flat in contrast to Louis'; he mixes it up with his mates and he got away to an earlier start on training than the Brown Bomber did.

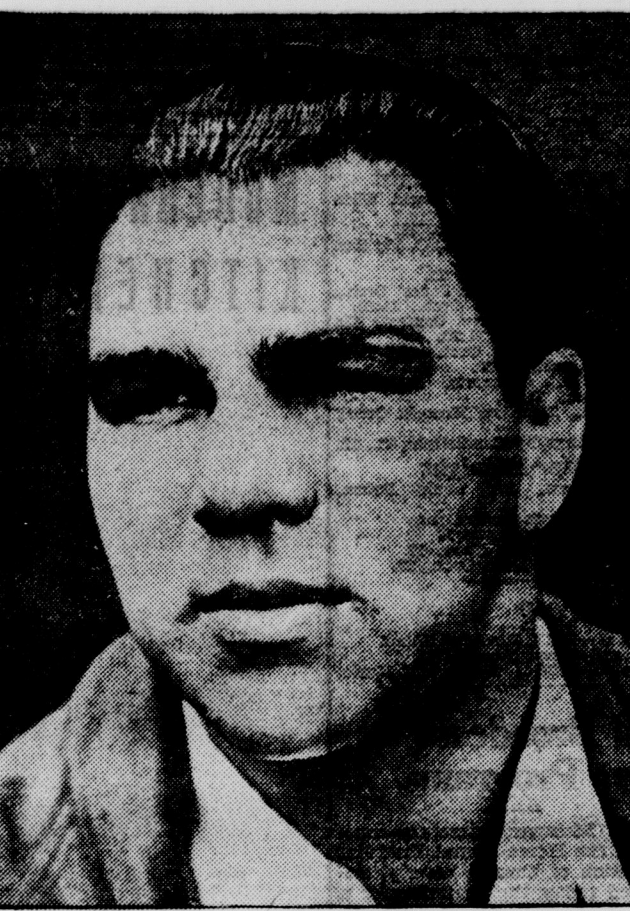

All in all, Max Schmeling looks pretty fair, but he won't on the night of June 18.

Mrs. Wade Warner Named Chairman At Willowick
Mrs. Wade Warner will serve as chairman of the Willowick Ladies' Golf club for the ensuing year as a result of an election held yesterday. Mrs. Cliff Miller was named secretary-treasurer; Mrs. H. A. Bradley, handicapper; and Mrs. Ludy Schaffer, team captain.

Mrs. Charles Chapman and the new officers, Mrs. Schaffer and Mrs. Bradley, were selected as delegates to the annual meeting of the Women's South Coast Public Links' association to be held at Willowick June 19.

Schmeling Set for 'Hopeless Task'

By CHARLES GRUMICH

NAPANOCH, N. Y., June 11. (AP)—The faint chance of becoming the first man ever to come back into the heavyweight fist-championship moved Max Schmeling to tackle the all but hopeless task of trying to stop Joe Louis. A triumph over the Brown Bomber from Detroit would win him a shot at Jim Braddock's heavyweight crown—and the experts rather like Schmeling's chances against the reigning champion if they ever should happen to meet, which is extremely unlikely.

Schmeling has plenty of money and a movie-actress wife who undoubtedly has a fortune also. What caused him, then, to undertake the fight with Louis at a time of life when a fist career is supposed to be ended?

It's His Pride
"Pride," answer the men up here in the Catskills who have watched Schmeling's totally serious tune-up for his bout with Joe Louis in Yankee Stadium on the night of June 18.

"Max wants to be the first ever to regain the heavyweight title. He is concentrating intensely on his training."

And he seems intent on the business as he waits and trades real wallops with sparring partners in the outdoor ring.

In striking contrast to the balmy atmosphere of the Louis camp down at Lakewood, there is little folderol as Max goes through his paces. He smiles and does the old Dempsey weave—learned from the Manassa Mauler himself—for the patrons.

Trade Real Wallops
They trade real wallops and Max has a genuine respect and regard for the fellows who are serving as targets for the right uppercut that is being groomed for Joe Louis.

"Excuse it," smiles Max when he belts a mate a bit harder than is considered cricket in a tune-up match. At other times, Schmeling makes friendly remarks in a guttural undertone.

Both his serious manner about it all and the brisk workout win applause from the visitors who have paid 55 cents—just half what it costs to see Louis.

The action is quick and rather convincing. Max's stomach is flat in contrast to Louis'; he mixes it up with his mates and he got away to an earlier start on training than the Brown Bomber did.

All in all, Max Schmeling looks pretty fair, but he won't on the night of June 18.

BEARS IMPRESSIVE

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 11. (AP)—California's Golden Bear crew, ruler of the river last year in the Intercollegiate regatta, impressed kibitzers in its first two workouts here. A few hours after their arrival from the west yesterday, the varsity took a three-mile jaunt, exhibiting smooth form.

LOS ANGELES BOXERS ON S. A. CARD

Babyface Shaw Opposes Cyclone Jure; Thomas Will Battle Berry

By BOB GUILD

Beetle-browed Lupe LeMon, the scourge of amateur heavyweights, is on the loose again.

The Fullerton slugger will climb through the ropes at Sam Sampson's Highway 101 arena tonight to trade punches with one George Hughes of Los Angeles, who threatens to provide serious competition for the local battler.

Impressive Record
Hughes last week hung a decision on Jack Wofford, ace of the Los Angeles Athletic club team, and brings an impressive record with him. LeMon, on the other hand, the simon-pures, and has had no fights since he won a virtual victory over the heavyweights among considerable difficulty lately in getting any fights at all.

Most of the big boys would rather walk around the Fullerton puncher than through him. Lupe, on the other hand, is noted for preferring the "knock 'em down and walk over 'em" method of advancing through the ranks. The fight tonight looms as a natural.

Plenty of good battles stud the supporting card. In the semi-windup Everett (Cyclone) Jure faces Babyface Shaw of Los Angeles, a smart lad in any company. Jure has been a consistent crowd-pleaser in the highway club, and looks to make a full evening of it tonight.

A couple of middleweights share the spotlight in the special event. K. O. Vargas of Placentia takes his stance opposite Kid Pancho, Los Angeles boy. Both are primarily hitters and promise action.

Berry vs. Larry Thomas
Gerald (Slap-happy) Berry, who had last week's house in a hip pocket although he failed to win any fights, renews an old feud against Larry Thomas, the boy to whom something always happens. Larry is a willing mixer, and has the happy faculty of making most anyone he's fighting look good.

Berry is a somewhat orthodox way you look at it, and would rather clown than fight.

Other spots present Danny Moreno vs. Bart Uribe; Rudy White vs. Delgado; Mayo Sario vs. Howard Caldwell; and Johnny Chavez vs. Baby Buddy.

COMMERCIALS PLAY F.N.B. TONIGHT

Mearl Youel to Pitch Against Roy Stout In Bowl Feature

By CHARLES GRUMICH

Santa Ana City league softball addicts will flock to the Municipal bowl tonight to see the game they've all been waiting for—a showdown between the Commercial and First National banks.

The Harold Finley-Don Hilliard Commercial and Gene Hitt's First Nationals boast unblemished records after five times out.

The Hittmen will virtually assure themselves of the first-half victory with tonight since only the Morgans will remain in their path next week. The Commercial will be at it.

Games Tonight
7:30 o'clock—Latter Day Saints vs. Knights of Columbus.
9 o'clock—Commercial National Bank vs. First National Bank.

Commercial, however, have another high barrier to hurdle in Kenneth Miller's Elks in the final round. Gametime will be at 9 o'clock.

Either the Latter Day Saints (Mormons) or Knights of Columbus will emerge from the cellar after the 7 o'clock preliminary. They have not won a game in five starts, but both have furnished lively competition for some of the top-notchers.

Manager Hilliard of the Commercial has secured the services of Ed Bristow, Tustin's High's sterling pitcher who also plans to play in Los Angeles, but the sensational Mearl Youel will be on the mound tonight.

The Commercial will present a slightly revised batting order. Finley said, with Les Boyle, 3b; Youel, p; Harvey Hemphill, ss; Russell (Rusty) Sullivan, 2b; Larry Mitchell, lf; Ed Gabe, rf; Rod Smiley, cf; Fred Erdhaus, 1b; and Walt Allen, c. Jesse Ojeda probably will replace Hemphill at short.

Robinson won with a birdie on the last green.

Kelly started like a house afire, winning the first three holes with an eagle and two birdies to be four under par.

Robinson came right back to capture the next three holes, and from there on the match was nip and tuck until the Santa Ana boy sank his final birdie on the eighteenth.

NAME WHITNEY SAINT CAPTAIN
Herschel Whitney, who runs the 1320 and mile, was unanimously named captain of Santa Ana High school's 1937 track-and-field forces in an election held by Coach Reece (Pinky) Greene yesterday.

Schmeling to Be Knocked Out By Louis—Jeffries
SAN FRANCISCO, June 11. (AP) James J. Jeffries, old-time former heavyweight boxing champion of the world, predicted today that Joe Louis will knock out Max Schmeling "any time he pleases" in their fight in New York June 18.

"From what I've seen of the colored boy in motion pictures, I'd say he is entirely too much for the German," Jeffries said. "He moves too fast and throws too many punches for Schmeling."

Los Angeles, with one foot in the cellar, knocked over the third-place Reds, 7-4. Catcher John Bottarini hit two home runs to lead his Los Angeles 14-hit attack. Steve Mesner also got a four-putty clout.

The Seals played miserable baseball and San Diego won its second straight game in San Francisco, 5-3. Dick Ward, released by Sacramento because he had lost the zip on his fast ball, held the Seals in check until the eighth when he was relieved.

Sacramento lost its sixth straight game as Portland pounded out a 6-3 victory at Sacramento. The Solons outlived the Beavers, 11-10, but the winners bunched three hits in both the first and third innings off John Chambers to score five runs.

PALO ALTO, Calif., June 11. (AP) Sammy Klopstock, Stanford's hurdling star, pulled up lame after a practice dash today, and Track Coach R. L. Templeton said it was doubtful if he could compete Saturday in the regional Olympic trials.

Oakland Celebrates Meyer Night By Capturing Lead

(By the Associated Press)
The Oakland baseball players celebrated Bill Meyer night by handing their quiet skipper a 9-0 victory and the Coast league leadership.

Jack Larocca, whose fast ball looks like a pea at night, set the Seattle Indians down with three hits, while the revamped Acorn lineup pounded Paul Gregory and Hal Spindel for 12 hits.

PENSION PLAN CRITICIZED

Outlining the Townsend plan, first as advocates see it and then from an accounting standpoint, Rockwell Hereford, representative of the Southern California Crusaders, spoke last night at the Political Education forum meeting in the Unitarian church.

One day's work in four is being given to the government, now, through taxation, Mr. Hereford averred, adding that little would be accomplished in redistribution of wealth, the poor merely becoming poorer while surpluses went into financial pools.

The speaker denied that great money combines were keeping funds out of circulation at the present time, declaring 90 per cent of the national income is now in the hands of persons exempted from income tax payments.

The transaction tax proposed by Townsendites would not net the amounts predicted, he said, because the number of transactions

DIAMONDS GOING UP AGAIN

Pawnbrokers' Trays Empty

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Diamonds went up today.

They went up yesterday, and the day before. They have been inching toward 1929 prices ever since the summer of 1932, but particularly since 1933.

The shrinking supply of diamonds in pawnbrokers' trays is responsible. The pawnbrokers' offerings "make" the New York diamond market, down on the Bowery, and the New York market makes the American market. Ben Fabrikant, a partner in one of the exchanges, explained: "People are redeeming their diamonds from the pawnshops. Stones are on each purchase would be reduced to avoid taxation. No rebuts were made to Mr. Hereford's arguments.

Communism, Fascism and constitutional democracy will be discussed in a symposium of talks on governmental forms, at the forum meeting next Wednesday evening. Teachers' tenure will be the subject of discussion at the June 24 meeting.

BEACH SCHOOL COSTS OUT

Reduction of $20,000 in school costs in the Newport elementary district, due to completion of a building program, has been announced by the board of trustees of the district through H. O. Ensign, superintendent. Taxes have been collected annually to finance the building program. With its completion, this assessment will no longer be necessary.

The completed elementary building now has accommodations for 600 pupils, exclusive of the kindergarten, and should take care of increases for several years, without an additional expense to taxpayers, board members announced.

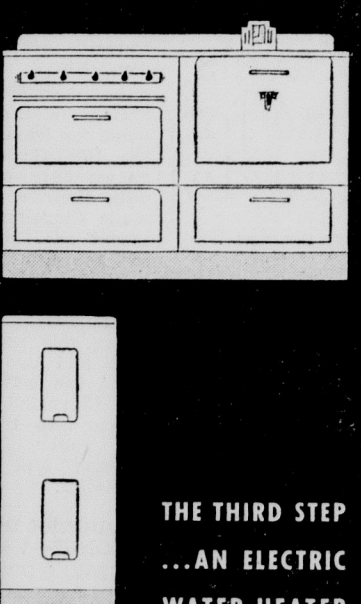

Teacher named for 1936-37 by the board were Mr. Ensign, district superintendent, four years; Miss Marie Heffern, Grace Sevier, Elizabeth C. Hyde, Nettie J. Bryan, Miriam S. Porter, Mary A. Delhauer, Mabel B. Stanley, Lillian R. Hemenway, Jean McNally, Charles Manning, Lucile Page, David Cherry, Hazel Cubbon, Eva Hice, Bess Murphy, Orville Northrup and Gretha A. Clark.

COUNCIL PLANS FUND TO PROMOTE PUBLICITY FOR SANTA ANA

F.D.R. LAUDS DEFENDERS OF TEXAS

Speaks on Battlefield Where Sam Houston Licked Santa Anna

HOUSTON, Tex., June 11. (AP)—President Roosevelt paid tribute to Texas pioneers on the battlefields of San Jacinto today, asserting "liberty-loving people will always do battle for principles they believe to be right."

He spoke at the site where Sam Houston defeated Santa Anna. "Men fought here for principles they loved more dearly than their own lives," Roosevelt said. "Civilization, alas, has not yet made it unnecessary for men to die in battle to sustain principle. It is, however, my hope that in this generation the United States, by its own example, can maintain and help to maintain principles by means of peace rather than by means of war."

Traces Texas' Fight "The pioneers and the liberators of Texas, looking down on us today, would, I am sure, say amen to that."

Describing the people of Mexico as "our now friendly neighbors," the President traced Texas' fight for independence from the Mexican government of 100 years ago, and said: "There are but few spots in the United States which have witnessed events equal in significance to that which took place at San Jacinto."

"Here a century ago was a great frontier of our civilization. On the twenty-first day of April, 1836, General Houston and the small body of less than 800 men under his command held in large measure in their keeping the future of our country as it is constituted today."

Same Spirit of '76 "The patriots whose memories we are honoring today were victorious in the same spirit that fired the colonists in 1776. . . ."

"It is easy therefore to share with you the pride which you take in San Jacinto—to share with you the fine thought of dedicating this field as one of the historic shrines of America."

Addressing an open air Arkansas centennial throng at Little Rock late yesterday, the President declared the constitution of the government extends beyond state lines and added:

"We'll March Forward" "Under its broad purposes we can and intend to march forward, believing as the overwhelming majority of Americans believe, that it is intended to meet and fit the amazing physical, economic and social requirements that confront us in this generation."

Declaring the "common man" must be protected from the "privileged few," he asserted the nation was "commencing to solve" the questions relating to prices,

Phone Call Will Start Poundmaster Galloping To Deliver Fido's Tag

Fido, or Rover, or Prince—any dog—had better get a new license this month. And Poundmaster H. D. Pickering will deliver the tags in person, if requested to do so. A $1 fee is required for all dogs owned, harbored, or kept in the city, and falls due this month, Poundmaster Pickering said today. And if Fido doesn't have a shiny new tag—he'll just land in the pound.

++ County Landmarks ++ County's 160-Acre Park Near Orange Was Gift of James Irvine, Sr.

(In an effort to acquaint residents of Orange county with some of their most-prized historic possessions, The Journal is publishing a series of daily articles on county landmarks. Today's article tells about Irvine park.—Editor.)

Irvine park is one of Orange county's permanent landmarks. Thousands of persons enjoy its beautiful trees and picnic facilities annually. The park is the property of Orange county and was given to the people by James Irvine, sr. It consists of 160 acres dotted with venerable oak and sycamore trees. The park was just as popular in the early days of this section as it is today. Church picnics have been staged there for a generation or more. Before the time of automobiles the frolicers rode to the park in horses and buggies, or on hay racks. In the old, open pavilion that stood there until a few years ago, many a Virginia reel was staged to "home made" music. The drive home in the moonlight required much more time in a horse and buggy than it does in an automobile. The present pavilion stands approximately on the site of the old one. A. B. Tiffany, of Orange, served for years as caretaker of the park, starting about 1907. It was while he was there that many of the trails were built. The lake was created during this period, using water from a spring that formerly made a swampy area in the park. Orange county has been carrying on an improvement program at the park and has leased additional land.

INCOME RETURNS SHOW INCREASE

Twenty-four more Santa Anans got up into the income tax classification last year than in 1931, the United States bureau of internal revenue announced today.

Last year's returns here totaled 1544; while the 1931 figure was 1520.

The entire county showed an income rise, with the number of returns rising from 4240 to 4453. El Modena exactly doubled its returns. In 1931 only one resident made a return. Last year there were two.

wages, hours of labor, conditions of employment, fair competition and social security, and added: "The new approach to these problems may not be immediately discernible, but organization to meet human suffering can never be predicated on the relaxation of human effort."

BUSINESS TAX MONEY WILL BE USED

Plan to Finance Affairs Like Recent Jubilee Celebration

Gears which may grind out a permanent publicity fund for Santa Ana—extracted painlessly—were beginning to turn today. The proposed fund, obtained from a portion of business license fees already being paid, would help finance such civic projects as last week's golden jubilee and promote Santa Ana's business, recreation, and other advantages.

Mayor Fred Rowland started Kiwanians thinking about it yesterday, when he told them a plan was under way whereby money could be obtained to draw attention to this community.

Top Limit Set An ordinance is being drawn up providing for allocation of funds, and will be presented to the city council in the near future for first reading, the mayor said.

Legally the fund might amount to as much as five per cent of the city's total assessed valuation. Actually, the mayor said, it would be much smaller. The five per cent, he explained, is just the legal top limit for publicity taxes.

To the city council goes the responsibility for deciding just how much of the business license tax revenue will go into the fund. That would be determined by ordinance, and the money will be directly under the council's thumb.

Limited Means "They'll find we're awfully Scotch about letting that money out, though," the mayor said.

"For the past two years your city council has had very limited financial means to be used for publicity purposes," the mayor said, "and what money has been expended has been derived from tax redemptions or taxes levied in prior years for this purpose. This source of income has become almost exhausted as I must now look for new sources."

Future Publicity "Our golden anniversary is an example of the opportunities for publicity which should be sponsored by the city. This project has received such favorable approval from our citizens as well as from visitors that I believe our city council should look with favor on the proposal and take the necessary steps to establish an annual appropriation out of receipts from license fees, to provide for future celebrations which will publicize and advertise this city and its shopping and business possibilities."

YOUTH TELLS OF SLAYING FATHER

Relates Fatal Quarrel And Says He Dumped Body Into River

CHICAGO, June 11. (AP)—A 16-year-old boy's declaration that he had probably fatally beaten his father and tossed the body into the Chicago river precipitated a wide search today for William Rudnick, 40.

Held in jail after a police detail made a futile all-night search for the body was Emil Rudnick, the son, who Assistant State's Attorney Charles Myles said blurted out yesterday:

"I think I killed my father. I can't stand it any longer, I must tell."

Myles said Rudnick related that his father found him driving a stolen car June 1.

"We had a fight and I picked up a tire tool and hit him over the head," Myles quoted the boy. "He fell unconscious. I didn't know whether he was dead or alive, but I put him in the back of the car and drove over to the river. I pushed him in the river and then drove away."

Police planned to have the river dragged.

Bashful S. A. Man Will Whisper 'I Do' Before Thousands at S. D. Fair

By ELLEN SNEBLEY

A very bashful Santa Ana man will be married before hundreds of thrill-seekers Saturday night in the great Spreckels amphitheater on the California Pacific International Exposition grounds at San Diego! A chorus of 300 will sing at the wedding.

The bashful man, Morey W. Eggleston, 1215 West Fourth street, Sontag employe and former employee at the exposition, grinned, blushed and dropped his voice almost to a whisper when interviewed by a Journal reporter.

"Yes, we both worked on the fairgrounds and met there," he said. "So when we decided at the end of a year to get married, we thought the best place would be at the fair where we met."

"And they've fixed up this swell wedding for us. I'm a little scared. She's the name is Miss Arlene Draper—is, too. We'll have 300 voices singing 'the wedding march' and 'O Promise Me' and 'At Dawning.'"

After their spectacular wedding and a honeymoon, Mr. Eggleston and his bride are planning to live in Los Angeles, where he has been transferred by his company.

PARIS FACES SHORTAGE OF MEAT NOW

Butchers Walk Out and Wholesale Plants Threaten Strike

PARIS, June 11. (AP)—Strike threats from wholesale butchers gave labor-vexed Paris the prospect of a meat shortage today.

Hardly had a widespread cafe and restaurant strike ended in a workers' victory when the wholesale butcher shop union announced its men would stop work tomorrow unless their demands were met. All retail shops employing more than six men already were closed by the strike epidemic.

Gunplay in Versailles added to the strike tension. Electric current in Dunkirk was shut off by a general strike in the city and on the water front, and suspension of gas and water services was feared.

Leo Blum, the new Socialist premier, got an icy reception on his first visit to the conservative senate.

Hundreds of striking workers on the 1937 exposition project marched in mass formation past the chamber of deputies, waving red flags, clenching their fists and yelling: "Collective contract! Collective contract!"

The cafe-restaurant strike which hit the center of Paris and affected some of the principal hotels was short-lived. Most of the eating places reopened in time for luncheon.

What IS the Face behind the Mask?

ON YOUR November 3rd ballot, hidden behind the words "Sales Tax Repeal" will be one of the most dangerous proposals ever presented to the voters of any state—the Single Tax Law. To vote for Sales Tax Repeal is to vote for Single Tax.

By placing practically all taxation on land—on your home, your farm, your ranch, on city lots, acreage, all land—improved and unimproved—land taxes would be increased between 200% and 400%. This tax would be utterly impossible to pay—resulting in confiscation of practically all land by the state.

Those who own no property would be faced with greatly increased rents, prices of food, clothing and other necessities—thousands thrown out of work. Many schools would have to close.

Know the truth! Don't let convincing schemers fool you with the sweet honey of Sales Tax Repeal—while they inject the gangrene of "Single Tax." Tell others about this poisonous deception before it is too late. Do it for your state, your home, your loved ones. NOW is the time!

Southern California Co-ordinating Headquarters have been established for the purpose of assisting organizations, communities and public spirited citizens of all Southern California to combat this drastic and dangerous constitutional amendment.

Flowers Are Theme of Writers

Flowers provided ample inspiration for Pierian club scribes at their latest program session in the home of Agnes Davenport Bond on East Myrtle street. Three guests were present, Mesdames F. A. Davis, Fred Brougher and Walter Foote.

A picnic was announced for next W. C. T. U. meeting, to be held July 14.

Mrs. L. A. Leabo was hostess recently at a rabbit war for a group of Native Daughters, who met at the Leabo home, 1303 South Main street, to finish a quilt for homeless children supported by the order.

Lace cloths, bright pottery dishes and bowls of gladioli made attractive the two luncheon tables arranged by Mrs. Leabo.

Those present included Mesdames Elizabeth Marcel, Rose Ford, A. P. Dresser, Arthur Edwards, A. E. Selvidge, J. A. Gant, Paul Etzold, Stella Finley, Light-hall, Raymond T. Dixon, Alice Rogers, E. Wagner, Horace Head, Hazel Flaherty, Walter Hickey, W. West, Carl Schroeder, Miss Gladys Edwards, and Patsy Lee Flaherty, "Wimpy" and Shilo Leabo.

Mrs. Alice Rogers played piano numbers later in the afternoon, when Mrs. Leabo served home-made ice cream with a cake made by Mrs. Carl Schroeder.

Master Bobby Trujillo invited a crowd of his little friends and cousins to help celebrate his sixth birthday anniversary recently in the home of his mother, Mrs. Frank Trujillo, 620 West Adams street.

Trujillo's sister, Mrs. E. T. Nelson of Los Angeles, was present for the birthday party. The boys played games while the table was being arranged with two birthday cakes, one for little George Louis, with two little candles. His party should have been May 19, but the storm had just arrived at the Trujillo home for the seventh time, so his party was delayed.

George had as merry a time as the other little boys. At the close of the party they were served ice cream and cake, punch, cookies and candies.

Present were Bobby Mercado, Billy Nelson of Los Angeles, Bobby's cousin, Armand, Jr., and his little brothers, Richard, Frank, Jr., and George Louis.

Woman's Club To Install Officers

Woman's club of Santa Ana will install its 1936-37 officers in an impressive open-air service Wednesday at Hillcrest park in Fullerton. At this time, Mrs. Earl M. Waycott will hand over the gavel which she has wielded so capably and effectively to Mrs. F. A. Martin, the club's new president.

The meeting will convene at 10 o'clock in the morning at the Izaak Walton cabin in the park. Reports for the year will be presented for the club's approval.

A supervised covered-dish luncheon will be served at noon. Mrs. C. R. Walter and Mrs. William Wells are in charge of luncheon reservations.

Mrs. Waycott is arranging for transportation. Installation will take place in the afternoon.

Mary Stoddard Older Man Advises Young Wife to Praise Instead of Preaching at Husband

By MARY STODDARD

Praise for his good traits, minimizing of the offensive things he does, and working to be happy with her husband is advised for the 21-year-old wife who asked advice, particularly of men.

She married a "man of the world," believing he sincerely wanted to forget past events, only to find him unable to break old habits of associations.

Dear Miss Stoddard: Your correspondent "Disillusioned 21" invited male comments on her letter. If in my letter I speak somewhat disparagingly of him, it must not be taken as complete condemnation, as we all are subject to change.

He is your senior. From the attitude he is assuming toward you I would judge him to be between 28 and 35—the age where most young men appreciate neither the small values that go to make up "good living" nor the large. He has been spoiled by the element he has traveled with.

Whether he knows it or not, subconsciously he wanted the thing in you—that he now decries—your virtue, character, and even your so-called wet-blanket attitude. Possibly in his heart of hearts, should he ever shake his dizzy head long enough to look, he would call you a "protective blanket" instead of a "wet blanket."

I wouldn't say the young man showed deceit before your marriage by being kind and gracious. He may have been showing his best and real self. But he has traveled with cheap men and women so long that his sense of real values is blunted.

As to his cynical observation that all men enjoy telling dirty stories, and that they look upon all women as objects of sex discussion and playthings—that's laughable—and pure fallacy—good men may "tolerate" a shady story among themselves, but they resent deeply even veiled risqué stories when told in front of decent women.

Remember every man has a mother, and the majority do not consider their mothers mere playthings. Be as informal as you can around his friends without sacrificing one bit of your innate virtue or character. You know, 21, it is possible to pass a dirty sewer or gutter without frowning. It's there, but we are unfurled about it. Do not be impressed by his stories of what a devil he was, or how worldly wise he is.

In your letter you say that since you have showed your disapproval he has been considerate of you. If he was all bad, your disapproval wouldn't mean a thing.

Now, "Mrs

Market Appears to Be Politics - Conscious As G. O. P. Meets

By VICTOR EUBANK
NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Stock market favors were given grudgingly to a few selected issues today while most of the so-called leaders remained in the wall-flower class.
Farm implement shares stepped into the limelight with J. I. Case up 3 points near the fourth hour, and Deere and International Harvester pushing forward a point or more each.
General Motors, Auburn, Liggett & Myers, "B." National Biscuit, Union Carbide and American Telephone advanced a point or so. Radio was active at a slight improvement. The majority of the rails, steels and utilities were narrow. The alcohol, including U. S. Industrial, Schenley and National Distillers, pointed lower.
With the Republican port boiling at Cleveland, Wall Street quarters were more than a little politics-conscious.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Late buying of steel shares gave added momentum to a rising stock market today and helped stiffen the list for gains of fractions to 2 or more points. Industrial equities were taken through-out the session as quiet bullish enthusiasm was generated by sharp gains in farm issues. The close was firm. Turnover totaled about 900,000 shares. ## BANKS URGED TO INCREASE PERSONAL LOAN BUSINESS

SEATTLE, June 11. (AP)—Personal loans—a field hitherto little explored by banks—deserve increased attention and should be made in larger numbers, speakers today told 1500 delegates to the 34th annual convention of the American Institute of Banking.
Pointing to the probability of interest rates would not return to higher levels for several years, J. R. Mitchell of San Francisco said forward-looking banks were exploring new fields for bank loans instead of waiting for the revival of rates. He asked:

At the Crossroads

THE REPUBLICAN party is standing today at the crossroads. What happens from now on in Cleveland will tell whether it turns over the cliff, or on to glory.
So far the guiding voices of Hoover, Snell, and Stiever have been devoted mainly to bitter criticism and have echoed of the days since 1920, and that path leads to the cliff.

But should there yet come out of the Cleveland convention a spiritual rejuvenation of a political organization which has turned so completely materialistic, then there might be a chance—and, perhaps, on to glory.

It is called the Grand Old Party.

Grand it was in Lincoln's time. Then it had the high humanitarian purpose of abolishing human slavery. But along toward the start of this century, the "old" phase became predominant.

Harding and the Ohio gang and some of the most shocking scandals of our national life came and went without any apparent effect upon the party's strength.
An idea grew that you could get away with anything.
"Prosperity absorbs all criticism," it was said.

Then came Coolidge, the silent little man from Massachusetts, who saw with clarity that the Grand Old Party was riding for a tremendous fall—and who stepped out from under it with the remark that he "did not choose to run." Wise Calvin.

And then Hoover, who was caught under the wreckage in 1929, but whose ovation last night shows how he retained the support of his followers.

Today, without dragging out the story, we find the Republican party, founded in idealism but gone the way of flesh, meeting once again to decide on a candidate and a platform.

Will the outcome be to hark back?

If so, the day is done, we believe, for the G. O. P.

If not, there is hope.

A few faint breaths of liberalism have stirred the air
at the Cleveland convention. They have come mainly from William Allen White, editor who hails from Landon's own state. But will they swell into a breeze in time to save the Republican party?

The next few days will tell.

A 2½-cent cut in the county tax rate is expected
this year as a result of school fund transfers. Fine.
The taxpayers can stand several more like it.

A Splendid Showing

IT'S time for a little tribute to the thousands of Uncle Sam's postal employees—the men and women who make possible the prompt, efficient and inexpensive delivery of letters from home, love notes, Christmas cards, stock-selling circulars, newspapers and last, but never the last—bills.

Most of us take the service of these federal government employees for granted and forget that here is one government monopoly, at least, which works pretty smoothly and economically.

Perhaps a few statistics will help to bring home the value of the service the postoffice gives. In 1908 the entire U. S. postal service handled 14,567,000,000 pieces of mail. By 1930 this total volume had increased 165 per cent to 38,600,000,000 units. Because of increased efficiency of postoffice employees, however, the increased volume of business was handled with only a comparatively small increase in the number of employees.

That's a splendid showing and proves that the oft-heard claim that government-operated services are inefficient and wasteful is not entirely true.

Maybe the Republicans will nominate Al Smith
for vice president.

Freedom of Contract

WHEN the Supreme Court majority knocked out the New York minimum wage law, upholding Joseph Tibaldi, a laundry-owner, against the people of the Empire state, Justice Pierce Butler in his majority opinion said:

"In making contracts of employment, generally speaking, the parties have equal rights to obtain from each other the best terms they can by private bargaining."

A news dispatch from New York indicates that Mr.
Tibaldi is about to put his girl employees on the 49-hour week, instead of the present 40-hour schedule, although he will not require them to work in his little steam-fitted plant for less than the $12.40 minimum under the voided
law. Tibaldi says business is good and he is spending

It's the Way You Say It

PRACTICALLY every one of Santa Ana's 35,000 residents pronounces the name of the city differently.

Latest one we heard is Santy Annie, although we thought the whole range had been covered before. This came from an eastern visitor who evidently was thinking of Santy Clause and Little Orphan Annie.

Some of our friends give it a Spanish inflection, saying Sawhnta Awnah. At least, we think it's Spanish.
And then there's the hybrid pronunciation—Santy Awna. And 34,997 others.

Why doesn't someone dig out the correct pronunciation? We'll be glad to broadcast it—like the Los Angeles Times does Loc Ahng hail ais—and probably with as little effect.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Dwight Deere Wiman is the diltante of the theatrical producers. And what is more, has a flair

O. O. McIntyre

for the theater
that has resulted in several hits. This year's musical sensation, "On Your Toes," is one of his brewings.
The ingredients
are his personal selections.

He is, as Ring Lardner might say, of "the Deere plow people" and has always luxuriated a silk stockinged sheen. The stage became a hobby
when he was in college and ever-thing about it, from star to flyman, has always absorbed him.
He was, in a hyphenated word
stage-struck.

Long before he dabbled in the production end he was one of the immature first nighters, the ardent sort who drifted to the stage entrance afterward merely to see the players file out. Aside from John Hay Whitney he is the most heavily bankrolled entrepreneur.

As cultured a producer as New York has ever known was the aristocrat Bostoner, Winthrop Ames. His office had the serenity of a savant's cloister. He espoused the Little Theater and was successful. The most outspoken and least affected of the guild is the veteran Al Woods.

Such a keen observer of the stage as Robert E. Sherwood declares the most thoroughly stage struck performers he has ever known are Lynn Fontanne and Alfred Lunt. Every performance to them is "The Great Adventure," whether played in New York or Hoboken. Their life work is to put on a show and they do it both on and off. Their quirks of vanity, their feigned indifference to critics are all a part of their act.
And they are people of almost the precisely taut temperaments
who have made marriage a rousing success.

New York's most consistent mayorality heckler is a tipupty 81-year-old, partly deaf man by the name of Stewart Brown. He has badgered every mayor since and including John Purroy Mccormack. He is president of a real estate organization and his heck-lings usually take place at the board of estimate meetings. Twice he has been picked up bodily, upon orders of the mayors, and carried from the room. Usually kicking and squealing with vigor. Often they have thought of barring him,
but he threatens court proceedings
and has his way.

Most people who are targets for heckling lose their temper, which is defeat. Bryan in early days was frequently interrupted from the audience. He always stopped and bowed his head as in prayer, and this put the taunters on the defensive, for the audience, always for an underdog, booed him down.
Still the most adroit parrier of a heckler's thrusts was Julius Tan-
nen. He went after them hammer and tongs, and always won. Often theater managers employed hecklers to annoy the monologist just to inspire him to put on a show.
It was better than his act. Another clever heckler router was Wilton Lackey. He was often framed at Lamb's Gambols to hear his replies. He could wither them in a jiffy.

No one wrangles more fun out of the business of freelancing than Charles Phelps Cushing. He is an alumnus of the Kansas City Star
and for 20 years has been wandering the metropolis with camera and notebook. Sometimes he discovers surprising photographic shots or runs across material that can be made into a saleable article. A bachelor, he has no boss and works and loafs as he mood seizes. One of the lucky few who makes money making his own assignments.

Study in persistence: For two years now the Boston has spent most of his waking hours hunting
for mice without ever catching one,
so far as is known, seeing one.

Thingumbobs: Young Alfred Vanderbilt is a sucker for T-bone steaks. . . The highly publicized Tommy Manville does not keep a scrap book. . . There is a Fannie Hurst Fan Club in Hawaii. . .
Raquel Meller is having a comeback in Berlin with her old vied song. . . Julia Sanderson laughs that way away from the radio, too.
. . . Ben Ames Williams writes swell poetry but won't market it.

Lord Faunteroy in revolt: The 5-year-old son of a neighbor brought a corner policeman to his apartment door today and, pointing to his mother, exclaimed: "Arrest her, lock her up and keep her until she cuts my curls!"

BRIGHT MOMENTS

A prisoner was found guilty of a sensational murder in London.
Being asked, as is usual, if he had anything to say before he was sentenced, he dramatically exclaimed:
"May Providence strike me dead,
my lord, if I did it."

The presiding judge, William Henry Maude, justice of the common pleas court, did not say a word for fully five minutes. Then he coughed, and in a dry, asthmatic voice, said:

"Prisoner at the bar, as Providence has not seen fit to interfere in your case it becomes my painful duty to pronounce upon you the sentence of death."

EVERYDAY MOVIES

"You'll have to speak louder. He's got swimming plugs stuck in his ears to keep out the noise of the radio next door."

By Denys Wortman

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

CLEVELAND, June 11.—The press always plays a leading role at national political conventions. Here at Cleveland it is especially important.

Not only are two of the presidential candidates publishers, but the master minds formulating and directing the campaign strategy of all the leading aspirants are newspapermen. The press literally dominates this Republican convention.

While veteran party leaders,
whose word once was law, wander
aimlessly about the hotel lobbies,
the newspapermen generalissimos
are sitting in the inner councils, shaping tactics, pulling wires, giving orders and dictating the platform.

It's all very strange and bewildering to the old party wheel-horses. But there is nothing they can do about it. The newspapermen are in control. Old hands at the business of politics, they know all the ropes. Behind the scenes they are running the show and their various candidates with spirit and vigor.

It is something new in national politics, and the "boys" are getting a great kick out of it.

LANDON STAFF

The volume of pro-Landon publicity is solely and directly attributable to the fact that his campaign is being run almost entirely by press men.

Landon headquarters here looks like the city room of a newspaper.
It is manned entirely by newsmen.
The only exception is John Hamilton—and he was picked by the newspapermen.

Dean of the Landon high command is William Allen White, famous and enlightened publisher-
editor of the Emporia, Kans., Gazette. White has only a hand on the throttle of campaign tactics,
but he is writing the Landon platform. In whatever form the Republican platform finally emerges,
it will bear the stamp of White's views and pen.

Henry J. Allen, former Kansas governor, ex-senator, and part owner of the Topeka State Journal, is White's old friend and right hand lieutenant.

The combat strategist of the staff is chunky Roy Roberts, manager of the Topeka State Journal, and former Washington correspondent of the Kansas City Star. Roberts played a leading role in 1928 in building and guiding the Hoover boom. His specialty is political manipulation,
and he is doing his stuff in his best
form.

Other newsmen of the staff are Oscar Stauffer, owner of a group of small-town midwestern papers,
in charge of press relations; Jack Harris of the Hutchinson, Kans., News, Stauffer's assistant; Lacy Haynes, Topeka correspondent of the Kansas City Star, Roberts' man-friday; Rolla Clymer, El Dorado, Kans., Times, and Senator Arthur Capper, publisher of Capper's Weekly and the Topeka
Capital, both contact men.

KNOX BRAIN TRUSTER

Col. Frank Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, has a small staff of press brain trusters.
But what they lack in numbers
they amply make up in agility and industry.
Generalissimo of the Knox campaign is former Senator George Moses, one-time newspaper publisher and currently free-lance writer.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

JUNE 11, 1911

Five pupils of Clarence A. Gus-tlin are to give a recital Monday night in Spurgeon's hall. This is of especial interest because Mr.
Gustlin has never taught voice before.

Mrs. Sarah Garland was in Pasadena this morning.

A Moose lodge was organized here last night, with officers being elected and installed. A goodly crowd was present. Officers elected were past dictator, George A.
Edgar; dictator, Clyde Bishop; vice dictator, R. R. Shafer; prelate, Charles P. Mattern; secretary, H.
T. Rutherford; inner guard, Ned Terwilliger; outer guard, Theodore West; and sergeant-at-arms, Roy E. Vincent.

Mrs. P. H. Beissel was hostess to the Clover club yesterday afternoon, all but one of the members being present. She served a dainty two-course collation in the dining room.

The horticultural commissioner was notified by the supervisors yesterday to remove the noxious weeds from the roads in the county.

SCIENCE NEWS

Improvements in machinery have now made possible a new type of rayon which is thinner than silk and of which a pound of thread would stretch across the United States. New improvements in manufacture have made it possible to produce rayon reduced two-thirds from its former size, and a third thinner than the finest natural silk. These new inventions are claimed to be another blow to China's and Japan's old silk industry.

Parliaments of Men Are Besieged with Fear

PARLIAMENTARY government is fighting for its life in France.
Faced with military despotism
over the Alps in Italy and across the Rhine in Germany, with would-be dictatorship in Spain;
with communism permeating
many phases of public and private affairs; with the British alliance badly dented; with the franc trembling as the gold reserve dwindles;
with the budget shattered and the treasury empty; with bitter industrial strikes paralyzing business,
the French people are more fearful than at any time since Joffre
made his historic stand at the Marne.

The new premier, Leon Blum, wrestles with tremendous odds.
The premiership in France is always an uncertain and unstable matter. This new government is the one hundred and first since the establishment of the republic in 1871. In 65 years the government has risen and fallen a hundred times. Only the marvelous courage and thrift and endurance
of the French people could survive such ebb and flow of political fortunes. Many times the outcome has been anybody's guess. Again and again the read hand of revolution or the mailed fist of monarchy has made deadly thrust at the nation's heart.

Premier Blum is beset by religious, political and racial difficulties. He is of Jewish descent, the first of that persecuted race to reach high position in France. He is a Socialist and a suspected of certain communistic sentiments. He is privately wealthy and cannot boast of close touch with common men. He stands for peace and friendly dealings with his powerful neighbors. Arrayed against him are all the reactionary elements in French life—the clericals, the capitalists, the nationalists, the militarists.

How long the premier can keep his balance in the general scuffle remains to be seen. The very lack of support from all sides may play into his hands. At least the chance for effective coalition among his enemies seems slight indeed. He may not succeed in doing much that may be just what France needs right now. Sometimes doing nothing is better than mulling
around trying strange remedies.
Perhaps the patient needs rest and a good purgative.

At any rate, the general European tension may be relieved somewhat by the disorder in France.
With the serious strike in the munitions business and lack of cooperation between the government and the military, the war fever
in France is subsiding, with a consequent cooling off in neighboring countries.

What Other Editors Say

DIVIDING THE WEALTH

(The Portland Oregonian)
If Andrew Mellon's fortune—liberally estimated at $94,000,000—were divided among the people of the United States, it would mean 75 cents (a cheap necktie) for each one of us.

J. P. Morgan's wealth, if we could lay hands on it, would yield us each about 40 cents; from Henry Ford, if we could chop up his factories and mines, we would realize about $4; from Mr. Hearst the "take" would amount to something like $160; and another $160
could be had from Mr. Rockefeller.
The total from this group, after deduction of the 75 cents secured from Mr. Mellon and already, as you will recall, spent on a neck-tie, would amount to $7.60. With this we could each purchase a quart and a half of champagne
with which to drown our disappointment over the discovery that the raid on accumulated surpluses
had not made us all rich.

SLOGANS, JUST SLOGANS

(Chicago News)
"Higher wages for workers,
more income for farmers," Mr.
Roosevelt promises. Yes, indeed!
And "Four years more in clover
under Grover," and "Four more years of the full dinner pail," not to mention "They're lighting the fuses in the mills for Taft" or "He kept us out of war." Also "Two cars in every garage and a chicken
in every pot," and "Balance the budget with beer!"

Remarkable Remarks

The problem of crime prevention is nobody's business, for the simple reason that it is everybody's business.—Dr. Frederick M.
Thrasher, professor of education,
New York university.

We must awaken to the fact that the world is at the parting of the ways.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

We must conclude Americans are an unruly crowd, judging from the costs of governing us.—Dr. E.
V. Wilcox, secretary of the Farmers' Independence Council.

The youth of this generation live in a cockeyed world. The teacher has left the room and the world is standing on its head.—Homer P.
Raney, director of American Youth Commission.

I will be an artist long after I am through being a tennis player.
—Heien Willis Moody.

Slang is no longer slang but a legitimate part of our language,
when it is used by such writers
as Mark Twain.—Allen B. Read, Chicago lexicographer.

The American penal system that operates to make fairly decent men bad, to make bad men worse, and then turn them all loose to prey upon society, is the last word in social stupidity.—Judge Joseph N.
Ulman, Baltimore.

Journalaffs

A home town is any place where they remember what a pretty little boy you were before you grew up and became homely.

This is the season of year when boys return home from eastern colleges, borrow dad's car, and are seen no more until they return to school in the fall.

The only time father and mother know son is home is when they see the automobile in the garage.

Once upon a time there was a barber who cut a man's hair and didn't remark, "Looks a little thin
on top, sir."

Skinny Scribbles

Around
and About Town With
C. F.
(Skinny)
SKIRVIN

Two breakfasts for Laguna Beach Rotarians have been held at the Otto Knoche hacienda at Irvine station, the first one announced by Harry V. Hanson, which was mythical, the other by Otto himself which was factual and satisfying. I was taken in by misplaced confidence on the first one, and taken to the last one by Hanson, who weakened over the
"dud" announcement, and compensated by transporting me to the Knoche home, but not until one of the party told him the joke about the sailor who ordered two cups of coffee and one doughnut. As soon as Harry gets the answer to the story we are to go back to Knoche's for another breakfast.

For several weeks Otto has threatened to put on a breakfast party for the Laguna boys. His first thought was to omit the directors, so when the society reporter got the item the names of those present would not include the directorate. But Mrs. Knoche changed Otto's mind for him, and the club appeared irrespective of official designation. The story back of the story was that previous boards of directors had established a custom of holding occasional breakfasts to which the rank and file were excluded. When Otto arrived at the last election and found a place on the board of directors he announced a breakfast for the "rookies," exclusive in its personnel, and sumptuous in its menu. But someone who knew something about their Bible got a lot of charcoal, put some of it on the heads of the "offenders," some of it under the grill, and they all lived happily ever afterward.

Otto holds two responsible positions. One as manager for the Irvine Warehouse, and the other chef
at the Knoche home. When I appeared he was in uniform. Boy, that fellow really looks good in a white hat and what he had under
it. By the time he handed me my plate it had a slice of ham on it,
big enough for two men my size,
two eggs which looked right up into your face, steaming hot potatoes, hotter biscuits and coffee.
Everything was hot. My private advice are that Otto built the fire. Boy, he's some chef. You see if he didn't know how to build a fire how could he cook? I ask you but don't want the answer.

Quite a delegation from Laguna had reached the table before our arrival. They were all at work.
The reception the Santa Ana delegation received was rather nonchalant, if not to say indifferent.
Why should a good hot breakfast
be delayed by social amenities?
It wasn't. But the boys relented
after their plates had been cleared, and wanted to know what in 'I Santa Ana was doing at Laguna club breakfast, so we sat down to show 'em.

Art Peterson, the retiring president of the Laguna Rotary club, sat at my left. He continued in that position until physically satisfied.

I didn't get to eat very much.
There was a young lady who persisted in asking me the most embarrassing questions about a breakfast held at the Knoche home that wasn't held, how Vic Rowland made the front page on a competitive paper and failed on his own where did I take my cap, and from other intendees and some direct journalistic thrusts. I could take it because the little lady I wanted to say "little pest," but that wouldn't be polite—was about my size. My curiosity was aroused so I sneaked around to find out who it was to dare "kid"
an old veteran. It was Otto's daughter, Mary. So that held me.

The only interference encountered was a few flies which Hanson brought down from the ranch.
He didn't need to do that. We could have disposed of the breakfast without their help. Milan Miller and Braden Finch complained about Hanson's discourtesy, but it was too late. Aside from occasional interruptions from Hanson who insisted on referring to the sailor who bought two doughnuts and one cup of coffee,
the breakfast finished without any fatalities.

I'm glad that Otto had the breakfast. I was hungry, said so, got a unanimous approval. And then he had to have a breakfast in order to validate my paragraph which appeared several weeks before he really had the breakfast.
I wouldn't want Otto to know it
but some of the boys were afraid
he was going to weaken, and that an advance notice might stimulate the idea and make it embarrassing
for him to fail. You see this sort of a build-up gives me an alibi. I was going to say good alibi, but I'm afraid it's too flimsy to go over very big. You know, that is if you know Otto, that he does not fail in his agreements. The way
I sized up that breakfast is that I am indebted to Otto Knoche, Minta Knoche and Mary Knoche.
That's three indebtednesses. But I have others
